The Behavioral Health Network is well known for its prowess in the field of medicine. But now it's trying to make its mark on another kind of field — softball.

Natchaug Hospital will hold its first-ever charity co-ed softball tournament on Saturday, June 24, at Recreation Park in Willimantic. Proceeds will benefit Natchaug’s Child and Adolescent Unit.

Six teams are signed up so far, but organizer Ben Nazario is looking for more. “We are hoping to get other teams from the Behavioral Health Network or Hartford HealthCare to sign up,” Nazario said. “While it is a softball tournament, it’s for a good cause, with lots of fun for the whole family. It also gives us a chance as employees to get together outside the work setting, to get to know one another and have some fun while we are at it.”

The inaugural event will also include...

an ice cream truck, children’s activities, bake sale and a gift basket raffle. The first game will be at 8 a.m. and the tournament is expected to conclude by about 5 p.m.

“Everyone is pretty excited about it,” Nazario said. “Lots of people who don’t play softball are asking to volunteer, which is great. There’s fun for the whole family.”

BHN President and Hartford HealthCare Senior Vice President for Behavioral Health Pat Rehmer said the softball tournament has created quite a buzz across the BHN because it is a new fundraising idea that came from frontline staff.

“It’s a grassroots effort, we’re getting out into the community and it’s for a good cause,” Rehmer said. “It doesn’t get much better than that. When you talk about staff engagement, this is a prime example. I want to thank Ben, our fund development team members Sherry Smardon and Ashley Laprade, Softball Committee member Darren Chick, Jessica Zacharie, Erin Joudrey and Nancy Santiago, all of whom are taking the time to organize this wonderful event.”

A mental health worker on Natchaug's child and adolescent unit and avid softball player, Nazario came up with the idea around the time that the Rushford golf tournament was being publicized.

They wanted to organize another fundraiser, and because they all already play in a Willimantic softball league, they decided to inquire about a softball tournament.

Nazario took the idea to East Region Behavioral Health Vice President of Operations Tom King, who welcomed the idea and shared it with leadership and Development Council members, who immediately supported the event. The cost is $200 per team. Each team can have no more than 15 players, and six must be females. Each team is guaranteed at least two games because it is a double elimination, one-pitch format.

Participating players, who must be at least 18 years old, will receive T-shirts and the first and second place teams will receive trophies.

Volunteers are still needed for the event. For more information or to volunteer, contact Ashley Laprade at ashley.laprade@hhchealth.org or 860.696.9872.

NAMI Walk

Institute of Living, Natchaug and Rushford employees represented the Behavioral Health Network at the annual NAMI Connecticut Walk on May 20 at Bushnell Park in Hartford. The annual event raised almost $130,000 for NAMI Connecticut, which offers education, advocacy and support services for people with mental illness and their families.

Every year, approximately 570,000 people die from substance abuse in the United States. To help their loved ones cope with their loss, the Department of Mental Health and Addiction Services is working with organizations throughout the state to make The Remembrance Quilt in memory of those who died from substance abuse. Clients and families from across the BHN are invited to a quilting event at Rushford’s Glastonbury office on Friday, June 9, from 5-7 p.m.

DMHAS will provide supplies for participants including quilting squares and a printer that can transfer photographs onto fabric, and participants are welcome to bring their own supplies or a pre-made square. For more information on The Remembrance Quilt, visit http://www.ct.gov/dmhas/cwp/view.asp?Q=588254 or contact pam.mulready@hhchealth.org.

About BHNews

BHNews is published every other Friday. Story ideas or submissions may be sent to amanda.nappi@hhchealth.org.

Articles must be submitted as a Microsoft Word document. Every effort will be made to run the article in its entirety, but due to space constraints and style requirements, editing may be necessary.

Deadline for the next edition of BHNews is Tuesday, June 13, at noon.
Two years ago, a record number of employees completed an Employee Engagement Survey and you were generous with your feedback. You provided leaders with many great ideas about how to make Hartford HealthCare an even better and safer place to work. In the last two years, we have made a lot of progress and we could not have done it without you. Here are just a couple of ways we have responded to your suggestions:

You told us you wanted a way to know your work is appreciated and to be able to recognize others for doing great work. We responded with:
- Momentum, an online platform that allows us to share our thoughts about our work at HHC so leaders can respond even more quickly and to recognize our co-workers for going above and beyond.
- Every Moment Matters, a program that spotlights employees who provide extraordinary patient care across our system.

You told us that we provide safe care to our patients, but we can always do more. We responded with:
- High Reliability training (techniques and tools to improve patient safety) for more than 12,000 employees and providers. This is now rolling out to the Behavioral Health Network.
- Plain-language emergency communications that replaced scores of confusing codes so if there’s a problem; we know what’s going on. Simply put, we now call a fire a fire.
- Armed-intruder response training that prepares us for the unfortunate reality of the world we live in. Online ALICE training with in-person ALICE-in-Action follow-up courses are now provided for every employee.
- A pilot program at Hartford Hospital that is testing whether a visitor check-in system and visitor badge requirement could improve safety across the system.

You told us we could do a better job helping you stay healthy and improve your work/life balance. We responded with:
- Weight Watchers membership at no cost for every employee regardless of health plan and any spouse covered by an HHC plan.
- A $75 discount on Apple Watch, so you can track your fitness using the many available apps.
- Easier to navigate web pages on HHC Connect, so you can better understand and take charge of your health insurance and other benefits.

HHC’s next Employee Engagement/Culture of Safety Survey starts on June 5 and we want to hear from you again. This is your opportunity to provide feedback that will help leadership build on what we are already doing well and respond to areas where we can do better. Remember that your responses are always confidential, and we need your honest feedback to get the most accurate results. A volunteer engagement ambassador from your department will provide lots more information and reminders closer to the survey date. Please ask your manager or your local HR business partner if you have questions.

The survey is very important, but you don’t have to wait to tell us how well we’re addressing your feedback. While in the past, HHC relied only on the large survey administered approximately every 18 months — you can now answer engagement questions on Momentum (using the smiley-face and thumbs up/thumbs down emojis) once a week. This will allow us to continue what we are doing well, and make any appropriate changes in near-real time.

What’s Wrong (and Right) with “13 Reasons Why” a free screening and town hall discussion

The Hartford HealthCare Behavioral Health Network, in partnership with Real Art Ways, is hosting a free screening of an episode of the controversial Netflix series “13 Reasons Why,” followed by a town hall discussion for parents and adolescents led by Institute of Living (IOL) experts:

- Hank Schwartz, MD, IOL psychiatrist-in-chief and vice president of behavioral health at Hartford HealthCare
- Lisa Namerow, MD, IOL child and adolescent psychiatrist
- Laura Saunders, PsyD, ABPP, IOL child and adolescent psychologist

“13 Reasons Why” – the story of a teenager who takes her own life – has come under scrutiny for its graphic themes while also sparking dialogue about suicide.

BHN leaders add depth to national and international events

J. Craig Allen, MD, Rushford Medical Director, was featured on NBC Connecticut discussing the dangers of mixing medication following Tiger Woods’ DUI arrest.

Woods released a statement saying that alcohol was not a factor, and the arrest was the result of an “unexpected reaction” to medications he had been taken, which included Vicodin, an opioid analgesic he had been taking following his most recent back surgery.

“Practitioners and patients need to know that pain medications, even when taken as prescribed, can have negative interactions with a wide range of other prescribed medications, which can enhance the potential side effects such as sedation, confusion and decreased coordination,” Allen said.

These potential interactions are outlined in Hartford HealthCare’s medical risk management educational video currently used for HHC providers.

- Saunders was also featured on this week’s Medical Rounds on WFSB, discussing the upcoming screening of the Gender Revolution at Real Art Ways on June 6 (http://bit.ly/1lANFzk)

More collaboration needed with Alzheimer’s on the rise

Dr. Blank honored by Alzheimer’s Association

Every 66 seconds, someone in the United States develops Alzheimer’s. More than five million Americans currently have the disease — and that number could rise to 16 million by 2050. With diagnoses of Alzheimer’s and dementia on the rise, coordination between providers and community organizations is critical to support patients and their caregivers.

Dr. Karen Blank, medical director of the Memory Disorders Center at the Institute of Living, understands this dynamic and works to connect people living with Alzheimer’s to the care and resources they need.

“We’re persuaded by patient and family feedback that patients who get specialized attention and care have better quality of life. That’s a big part of our purpose, and it enables people to stay in their communities and with their families as long as possible.”

Dr. Blank has been awarded the Physician’s Leadership Award from the Alzheimer’s Association Connecticut Chapter for going above and beyond in patient care and diagnosis of persons with dementia. The award recognizes Dr. Blank’s work referring patients and their families directly to the organization for continued support throughout their journey with the disease.

“We are pleased to announce Dr. Blank as the 2017 Physician Leader of the Year,” said Carolyn Alessi, Vice President of Development and Corporate Initiatives at the Alzheimer’s Association Connecticut Chapter. “This award recognizes her work in diagnosing patients with dementia and referring them and their families to our 24/7 Helpline for additional care and support as they navigate this challenging journey.”

The work of Dr. Blank and the Memory Disorders Center aligns with the Alzheimer’s Association’s efforts to increase nationwide referrals from professional healthcare providers to the Association for care and support services.

“Dr. Blank stands above her peers as a medical professional who understands the importance in providing not only clinical care to persons diagnosed with dementia but also ensuring an added layer of support is provided to the family caregiver and person with dementia,” Alessi said. “Dr. Blank’s team holds a support group for persons with dementia using the Alzheimer’s Association’s...”

- Autism Spectrum Support/Educa tional Group Meeting For Parents. June 21 (Third Wednesday of the month), 6 - 7 p.m. Providing a place for parents of children on the autism spectrum, or with another related disorder, to come together and get support and information. Monthly, peer-run support groups interspersed with special guests and speakers to offer additional guidance and perspective.

- Anxiety Disorders: An Introduction. June 27, 6:30 – 7:45 p.m. This lecture is for families and friends of individuals who have an anxiety disorder or a related disorder. Participants will acquire a basic understanding of anxiety disorders, their treatments and suggestions to help them better cope with the illness.

The award will be given at the annual Brain Ball on June 10. The Brain Ball is held each year in June to commemorate Alzheimer’s and Brain Awareness Month. Through the Brain Ball, the Alzheimer’s Association Connecticut Chapter aims to bring together influential and respected political, business and social leaders to champion the fight against Alzheimer’s disease.

“We have worked closely with community partners over the years, and the foremost partner has been the Alzheimer’s Association Connecticut Chapter,” Dr. Blank said. “We have a deep and well-developed relationship with the association and they have helped us tremendously to identify support and resources.”

Dr. Blank founded the Memory Disorders Center in 2005 with two goals in mind: improve the accurate diagnosis of cognitive decline and dementia, and provide excellent care for patients and their families. The Center features a clinical service, teaching service and endowed research service through the Braceland Center for Mental Health and Aging.

You make a difference!
As you are all aware at our 2015 Annual Reception we announced our plans to work with the Master Gardeners to create a Board of Directors Tribute Path and Welcome Garden in front of Natchaug Hospital.

The Tribute Path features a personalized brick for each of the 55 Board Member who served on the Natchaug Hospital Board of Directors – dating back to 1977. There are also benches that were sponsored which offer visitors a chance to sit and enjoy the peacefulness of the garden.

I am happy to report that the Master Gardner’s have done a tremendous job completing the garden and tribute path.

Please join us for a garden celebration and dedication:
Date: Tuesday June 6, 2017
Time: 8:30 AM – Light refreshments
9 AM – Dedication
Location: 189 Storrs Road, Mansfield

Please RSVP your attendance to Ashley at 860-696-9872 or Ashley.Laprade@hhchealth.org by June 1.

Less than one year after opening, the Buprenorphine program at Rushford’s Meriden facility is celebrating its 100th patient and positive statistical outcomes for the patients with opioid addiction and comorbid psychiatric disorders.

The Buprenorphine program, starts patients in intensive outpatient program where they complete 30 days of programming over six to eight weeks. Preliminary analysis of the data collected about the 100 patients shows a significantly improved 30-day retention rate (in comparison to national rates).

Additionally, it appears that Buprenorphine alone may be sufficient to stabilize mood for patients with comorbid disorders (over 70 percent of patients in the program) without the need for additional mood stabilizers. Although there is some anecdotal information about using Buprenorphine for mood disorders, there are no established studies to support such use. The most common psychiatric disorder for patients in the program was bipolar disorder, followed by post-traumatic stress and major depressive disorders.
